

End of Dates

Times have changed and you don't miss my body any more like you did in the US.

In the meantime we spent exciting nights together and I thank you for this half year

But already then I should have realized that a girl that doesn't let stay her lover over night is not honestly loving.

Sometimes when I was ringing at your door in vain
I felt like you pretended not to be at home like you did with your Ex.

I'm not him who you think will love you forever.

The last times we made love together
it seemed you were also lying besides, contemplating us.

It's a coward approach, letting a love fade.
I did some efforts to reconquer you but I also got my pride.

There is no excuse at all for not calling at my birthday nor for giving me not the smallest present -
The worse because you give presents to all your relatives for any occasion.

Your holy independency can't be the real reason why you treat me so coldly.
